

Hi Debbie,

Mum is all moved in to her new home.

The last week or so has been so stressful the last couple of days especially so. I hated taking mum away from her home & her beloved Hoylake but the time had come. If I had my doubts before we arrived, after I had put her to bed, coped with her through the night & got her up again in the morning, Sadly I knew I was right. She was very unsettled during the night & the thought of her being alone, frightened & unable to get out of bed was too much for me to bare.

I want you to pass on my sincere thanks to all your staff who have cared for mum with such love & gentleness over the last few years, we really do appreciate it. You & your girls often went far beyond what you were expected to do. you made friends with mum & she trusted you. Knowing she was so well cared for has been a wonderful thing for us all as we live so far away. She has her little angel from Caroline on her cardigan, so you see you're still involved!!

I went to visit mum after work today, she is confused & a bit bewildered. Milly had already been in but she had no recollection of her visit. When I arrived she was in the dining
